A comfortable shell jacket in high-quality stretch material, ideal as the third layer. The jacket is windproof and waterproof, with taped seams and a fixed hood. The fabric features a three-layer construction that provides the optimal combination of windproof and waterproof qualities, while the material maintains high breathability.

Underarm zips provide extra ventilation when needed, and the front closure with wind flap provides an extra level of protection against the elements. Spacious zip-up pockets allow for plenty of storage, including large documents.

Also available in a women's model 4708.
